inside competitor made large market share gains and is expanding its leadership as the #1 selling chocolate item. Yowie's other major competitors, despite increasing their own investments, were flat or declined. Other novelty competitors were down overall.

Additionally, in December Yowie's major customer commenced a program to reduce its days on hand inventory targets across the front-end candy section, further softening the Group's sales in Q2. This impacted on shipments into the warehouse although did not affect underlying consumer demand. We are addressing the current landscape by pursuing off peak display opportunities, adding a new Yowie item starting in May, continuing distribution expansion and refocusing marketing spending.

Group EBITDA (unaudited) for the quarter showed a loss of -US$534k compared to a -US$2,689k in the previous year and 1H loss of -US$712k compared to -US$4,239k in the previous year. Net operating cash burn for the quarter was -US$435k compared to -US$1,854k. Net operating cash flow was positive for 1HFY19 at US$146k compared to a burn of -US$3,331k for the prior corresponding period. Yowie's balance sheet is strong with net cash of US$18,751k.

The first series contains 20 popular animals that live in Australia, North America and the oceans in between. Also included is a full color leaflet with educational information and an invitation to our digital assets.

This new product will surprise and delight children and help them to develop an affinity for the animals and their natural habitats. We are focused on driving more US distribution with the 50% mark the next hurdle objective and furthering expanding our Australian distribution, as well as pushing broad acceptance of the Bites.

We continue to evaluate every aspect of our business and cost structure. Cost saving programs commenced last January resulted in US$4.6m of annualized savings (Admin & Selling: US$2.3M, Marketing: US$1.3M & Product design: US$1M).

Innovation is critical to keep our brand fresh, drive collectability, and grow sales. We will continue to launch new Yowie Series regularly and bring new offerings such as Yowie Bites to address consumer needs and diversify our portfolio.
